The gentleman in front of this Rolls Royce Piccadilly-P1 Roadster, owned this car for 82 years. He was the oldest person living to own a car from new until his death in 2010. The car had 1,070,000 miles and still ran like a Swiss watch. The car is now with the Springfield Museum, Massachusetts.

From the Editors:

Over the past few months the existing printer has been playing up a little and we have spoken about getting a new one. I have explored the costs associated with purchasing a new one and the costs range from $99 to $1200. Having looked at some at Office Works, I think the Brother DCP 8155Dn Mono Laser multifunction printer is the best buy but it costs $519.00 plus consumables. There are cheaper models but they require wireless technology and a Usb cable cannot be connected. I am therefore suggesting that funds be allocated for the $519.00 printer.

Karen and I are heading off for a week's holiday to Tasmania at the end of February, so the March issue of Self Starter will be out early. If anyone has adverts or anything they wish placed in the magazine then please let me know asap.

Joke:

A wealthy Arab Sheik was admitted to hospital for heart surgery, but prior to the surgery, the doctors needed to store his type of blood in case the need arose. As the gentleman had a rare type of blood, it couldn't be found locally, so, the call went out. Finally a Scotsman was located who had a similar blood type. The Scot willingly donated his blood for the Arab.

After the surgery, the Arab sent the Scotsman in appreciation for giving his blood, a new BMW, 5 carats of diamonds, and $50,000 dollars.

A couple of days later, once again, the Arab had to go through a corrective surgery.

The hospital telephoned the Scotsman who was more than happy to donate more of his blood again.

After the second surgery, the Arab sent the Scotsman a thank-you card and a box of Black Magic chocolates.

The Scotsman was shocked that the Arab did not reciprocate his kind gesture as he had before.

He phoned the Arab and asked him: "I thought you would be generous again, that you would give me another BMW, diamonds and money ... but you only gave me a thank-you card and a box of chocolates."

To this the Arab replied: "Aye laddie, but I have Scottish blood in ma veins now".
